LOGISTICS

Our fleet management system is equipped with advanced tracking devices that feature online temperature monitoring controls. This technology ensures safe food delivery by continuously monitoring and maintaining the appropriate temperature levels during transit. All of our vehicles are monitored via GPS, allowing for accurate tracking and tracking of deliveries.

Integrating temperature readings during transit is critical to adhering to the Hazard Analysis and Critical Control Points (HACCP) process. By maintaining detailed records of temperature conditions, we ensure compliance with food safety standards and protect the quality of our products.

In addition, our Global Business Solutions (GBS) system enhances operational efficiency by enabling the team to effectively control and organize fleet activities. The system streamlines scheduling, route management, and resource allocation, resulting in improved coordination and overall performance.
